Luyao Huang

Selected CV Curatorial practice, art & research

luyaohuang715@gmail.com

Profile

Luyao Huang is a visual arts and curatorial studies MA student at NABA, Milan, with an undergraduate background in musicology. Her practice spans curatorial proposals, participatory art, moving image and critical writing.

Education

NABA, Nuova Accademia di Belle Arti • Milan

MA in Visual Arts and Curatorial Studies • In progress

Musicology

Undergraduate degree

Selected experience

Artender Collective

Co-founder & creative collaborator

Co-develops participatory food-art projects and workshops. The collective credits Huang with culinary production and media outreach as part of a shared creative process.

Chinese Table • The Witness

Collective presentation • May 2026

Contributed to the development of workshop materials and documentation for Artender’ s project at Casa degli Artisti, Milan.

Chinese Espresso

Visual anthropology coursework • June 2026

Produced a single-take film and accompanying observation text on everyday service interactions and the position of the camera.

Skills & languages

Curatorial proposals, project documentation, source review, English-language research and writing, and bilingual project communication.

Mandarin Chinese (native) and English (academic reading, writing and project communication).